A group of four medical professionals, two men and two women, are gathered in a clinical setting. They are all wearing white lab coats and light blue surgical masks. The woman on the far left has a purple stethoscope around her neck. The man next to her has a blue and white checkered shirt under his lab coat. The woman in the center has a green stethoscope. The man on the far right has a green stethoscope and is holding a tablet computer. They are all looking down at a document held by the man in the center. The background is a bright, out-of-focus hospital hallway.
